

2013-2014 Model Service Delivery Options Sites for Gifted and Talented Children

The Kentucky Advisory Council for Gifted and Talented Education is pleased to designate for 2013-2014 the following as Model Service Delivery Options Sites in Kentucky. These model service delivery options demonstrate outstanding and innovative practices for providing appropriate educational services for gifted and talented children. The designation as a model service delivery option was based on the goals, overall planning, instructional strategies, student outcomes, procedures for assessing and evaluating, and building/district/parent supports. The recognition is for one year.

See <http://kagegifted.org/advisory-council/model-service-delivery-options/> for the list of the 2013-2014 Model Service Delivery Options for Gifted and Talented Children and the 2014-2015 application with the guiding questions and rubric.

Deadline for the 2014-2015 application is April 11, 2014.

★ Bullitt Academy for Math and Science (BAMS) Self-Contained High School/College

To provide intellectually gifted and highly motivated students an opportunity to prepare themselves for the challenge of college through engagement in a rigorous and expeditious four-year curriculum

Riverview Opportunity Center

Bullitt County Schools, Shepherdsville, KY

Contact: Sarah Coomer

Sarah.coomer@bullitt.kyschools.us

★ Talent Development through Service Learning

To utilize service learning to focus on critical thinking skills and talent development and to provide students with the opportunity to be active learners and strengthen school-community relationships

Phillip Sharp Middle School & Pendleton County High School

Pendleton County Schools

Contact: Michelle Lustenberg

michelle.lustenberg@pendleton.kyschools.us

