

Lynette Baldwin Scholarship for Teachers

Application

Lynette devoted her life to students with gifts and talents, their educators, and their parents. Her tireless advocacy for Kentucky's gifted and talented children impacted countless children and young people, their educators, and their families. Whether walking the capitol halls in Frankfort or Washington, D.C., organizing timely professional development opportunities for GT educators, overseeing the KAGE office and KAGE Board, and so much more, Lynette embodied the invaluable mission of KAGE on all levels. She was respected locally, state-wide, and nationally for her leadership. It is with great pleasure that the KAGE Foundation created the Lynette Baldwin KAGE Scholarship for Teachers.

Teachers are invited to apply for funding to attend professional learning opportunities focused on meeting the unique needs of students with gifts and talents. This includes the KAGE Annual Conference, Fall Workshop, and Summer Workshop. Educators must be knowledgeable to provide equitable identification and access as well as appropriate services for these exceptional children.

Applications must be received by December 1 and August 1 each year. Applicants must provide a description of their work with gifted and talented youth, reasons why attending the professional development is important to their work, and a brief description of their intended outcomes from attending the session. Awardees must provide a written summary of the outcomes from attending the professional development session by June 30th. If you have any questions, email kage@wku.edu.
